

Panasonic Warranty Canada Products

TYPES OF WARRANTIES

1. EXCHANGE - Products that have an exchange warranty should be returned to the place of purchase for exchange.
2. SERVICE PARTS & LABOUR - Products with this warranty should be taken to a Panasonic Authorized Service Center for repair. Use our Service Center Locator to find a service center near you.
3. SERVICE IN HOME PARTS & LABOUR - Products with this warranty are serviceable in the customers home by a Panasonic Authorized Service Center, if the customer is within a specified distance. Use our Service Center Locator to contact a service center near you. Note: Refer to the distance applicable in the individual warranty policies. (50 km radius within an authorized service depot is the set range.)

Do I need to register my product for warranty?

It is not necessary to register your Panasonic product for warranty purposes. Simply retain a copy of your receipt or bill of sale from the authorized Panasonic dealer where you purchased your product. In case of a defect with your product, you must present your purchase receipt or other proof of date of original purchase, showing the amount paid and place of purchase to assure you of immediate warranty validation at any Authorized Panasonic Servicentre for repairable models, or at the Dealer location where you purchased your product for exchange models.

However, we do have the option to register your Panasonic consumer product purchase on our web site at the following link. Panasonic Canada Product Registration
